

Present Scout Honor Awards

Forty-one Red Buck District Boy Scouts received advancement awards last night in the Boy Scout Court of Honor conducted at the Gladstone High School auditorium.

District advancement chairman, S. E. Decker, of Escanaba, served as chairman of the court.

Highlight of the event was the presentation of scouting's highest honor, the Eagle Scout Award, to Harold Hebert of Nahma by Andy Houston, district Scout executive. After Andy's father had pinned the Eagle badge on his son's uniform, Scout Hebert presented his mother with a miniature Eagle Scout badge.

Conduct Ceremony
The Star Scout Award went to Fred Pfister of Troop 467, Gladstone. He also received merit badges in first aid, swimming, cooking, home repairs and citizenship in the home. Douglas Maskart of Troop 466 received the cooking merit badge.

The opening flag ceremony was conducted by Explorer Scouts of Post 467 of Gladstone.

Explorer Scout Franklin Lash, a member of the Scout contingent that attended last year's National Jamboree in California, conducted a candle-lighting ceremony representing the 12 parts of the Scout law and the points of the Scout Oath: duty to God and country, duty to others and duty to self. Explorer Scout Clarence Shiner assisted Lash.

Present Awards
District Executive Houston paid tribute to the Scoutmasters of the district for their unselfish efforts in providing quality leadership for the boys in their troops.

As the Court of Honor closed, Scouts and Scouters participated in a ceremony in which the candles representing the Scout Oath and law were extinguished.

The following Scouts received awards:

Tenderfoot—Fred Miron, Robert Anderson, David Ohman, Gary Pfister, Wayne Kaufman, George Cayer, Thomas Bolger, Wendall Beauchamp, and Robert Allen, all of Troop 466 of Gladstone; Larry Olson, John Munshaw, Tom Noradin and Tom Sprague of Troop 404, Escanaba; Russell Kent, Jim Kennedy, David Floyd and Kenneth Koehler of Troop 467, Gladstone.

Second Class—Donald Hartman, David Gereau and Edwin Moore, Troop 421 of Nahma; Wesley Harris, Harold Bergman and Gordon Sirola, Troop 467 of Gladstone; Robert Bink and Robert Lieungh, Troop 455 of Escanaba; Charles Sarasin, James Franz, Dale Cretnes, Richard Sarasin, Joseph Patterson, John Yirsa and Allen Dabney, all of Troop 466, Gladstone.

First Class—Darwin Pfister and Douglas Maskart of Troop 466, Gladstone; Dennis Arley and Franklin Lash, Troop 467 of Gladstone.

Teen Age Gangs Stage Near Riot In Kingsford

KINGSFORD—Possible violence was narrowly avoided when a crowd of about 120 "teen-agers"—including 40 girls—from Iron Mountain and Kingsford high schools milled in and out of the Kingsford Drugs, Woodward Avenue, for about two hours last night before dispersing.

According to reports, the "teen-agers" threatened a gang-fight over an "incident" which was reported to have happened last Sunday. The nature of the incident was not disclosed.

Reports are that the two factions threatened to fight inside the Kingsford Drug store, but male employees of the store managed to get the students outside, where they continued to mill around until Kingsford police were called.

Iron Mountain and Kingsford school officials were notified today and promised measures to prevent a recurrence of the trouble.

Strong warnings were also issued today by Henry King and Frank Pipp, Kingsford and Iron Mountain police chiefs.

It is estimated that 312,000 Americans are blind.

Straits Bridge To Employ 500

Work on the Straits of Mackinac Bridge is expected to employ about 500 men this year and approximately 1,000 in later stages of its construction, according to the Feb. 4 issue of "Michigan Roads & Construction" magazine.

When warm weather comes and ice melts, construction will be started, the article points out, and engineers and representatives of the contractors are already in the Straits area doing surveying and other preliminary work.

Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corp., 260 Madison Ave., New York City, has a $25,700,000 contract for the foundation work and Merritt-Chapman plans to have an office established in the Straits area in the near future the article continues.

It is expected that about 500 men will be employed on the Bridge work this summer and that close to 1,000 will be engaged by the time the American Bridge Division of U. S. Steel Corp., which holds the superstructure contract, will be working along with Merritt-Chapman & Scott.

William Denny, executive vice-president of Merritt-Chapman & Scott, said applications for jobs will be handled through an office to be established probably by the end of the month. Grover A. Denny has been named project manager and will be in charge of all phases of Company activities at the job site.

It is expected that the Straits office of the company will be on the Mackinaw City side, although another may be set up on the St. Ignace side, it was reported in the road builders magazine.

Those seeking employment on the bridge job are asked to wait until the local employment office is opened and not to write the New York office of Merritt-Chapman & Scott.

Scheduled for work this summer, the magazine stated are 12 truss span piers on the St. Ignace end of the bridge, fabrication of caissons for truss span piers on the Mackinaw City side, and fabrication of caissons for the main tower piers. Much of the building material for this construction will undoubtedly be purchased in Michigan, it was pointed out.

Yesterday's 39 Equals Record

It turned cold during the night after yesterday's high of 39, the warmest Feb. 10 day since 1891, sharp winds from the north brought a sudden drop and shortly after 9 o'clock this morning the temperature had gone down to 10.

It isn't going to warm up much today, says S. E. Decker of the Escanaba weather bureau. The temperature may possibly reach 20 before nightfall, but zero may be expected by tomorrow morning.

Decker gives reassurance, however. The cold wave is not likely to last long.

The chill spell here is reflected in weather conditions throughout the mid-west. International Falls, Minn., is again the coldest spot today with -10. Devils Lake, N. D., and Bemidji, Minn. both had -9. Sault Ste. Marie and Park Falls, Wis., had 5 above.

Some snow has fallen in the Rocky Mountain regions, but snowfall generally has been light.

Taxpayers Urged To Phone Problems To Revenue Office

The Internal Revenue Service is encouraging taxpayers to use their telephones when seeking advice about their federal income tax.

A. M. Menninger, district director of internal revenue states that advice and assistance can be given in a minimum of time in this manner. The phone number of the revenue office at Escanaba is 1822.

There are no substantial changes in the income tax law since 1952, says Menninger, and those at the office are in a position to give prompt answers to problems those making reports may have.

Though the deadline for filing returns in more than a month away taxpayers are urged to get their returns in as soon as possible and avoid the last minute rush.

Marquette Not 'Surprised' By Air Force Base

MARQUETTE—Under the Air Force enlargement program, some details which were announced Wednesday in Washington, D. C., work is expected to be started next July 1 on expansion of Marquette county's K. I. Sawyer airport, near Saults, to put it in shape for use as an Air Force base.

A late Associated Press dispatch from Washington states that while only a few details of the plan had been revealed, it is presumed the Sawyer base will be large enough to accommodate a 25-plane squadron.

Whether it will be a jet plane squadron was not disclosed, but it seemed likely that jets would be based here, as they are at the Kinross port near Sault Ste. Marie.

137-Wing Program

The Marquette county base which will be similar to one planned for Traverse City, will be part of the Air Force's new 13-base 137-wing expansion program.

Washington dispatches emphasized that establishment of the two bases in Michigan is dependent upon satisfactory agreements and arrangements with local communities covering the use of community facilities.

News of the selection of the Sawyer airport to become one of the key units in the Air Force plan for defense of strategic areas did not come as a surprise here. Last November and December high-ranking officers of the Air Force came here to inspect the Sawyer port. They made no comment at that time as to the purpose of their mission, but it is obvious now that their visit was part of the Air Force planning to set up new bases and expand existing facilities, underlining the Eisenhower Administration's new defense concept that leans heavily on air power and atomic weapons.

Ferguson, Bennett Advised

In Washington late yesterday the Air Force expansion plan, as it affects Michigan, was disclosed to U. S. Senator Homer Ferguson and Rep. John B. Bennett, Congressman from the Twelfth district.

Setting up an Air Force base at Sawyer would mean the expenditure of a huge sum of money for construction, barracks, hangars and other facilities, for increasing the number of runways and for lengthening and resurfacing the runways now in use.

It also will mean assignment here of a large force of Army personnel. At Kinross, where a squadron of about 30 jet fighters, interceptors and rocket-equipped planes is based, the Army personnel runs to over 1,000 men. A few of the married men at the Kinross base live in Sault Ste. Marie, but the majority are housed in barracks. Sixty pre-fab housing units

Examiner Reports:

Union Upheld By NLRB In Dispute With Wards

The reinstatement by Montgomery Ward Company of two of its store employees in Escanaba with full back pay and without prejudice was recommended by C. W. Whittemore of the National Labor Relations Board in a report received in Escanaba today.

Wards store in Escanaba has been closed since Oct. 2, 1953, as a result of a dispute between the company and Local 1627, Retail Clerks International Association, AFL.

The NLRB examiner described the cause for which the two employees were discharged as "pretexts," and recommended that Wards "desist" from further unfair labor practice.

Two Discharged

Wards has 20 days within which to comply with the recommendation of Examiner Whittemore or appeal to the NLRB from Whittemore's findings. Wards has not indicated whether an appeal will be filed.

The intermediate report of the NLRB examiner was made following a hearing in Escanaba Jan. 6, 1954, on complaint of the union that Wards had "discriminately discharged" two employees. Edward J. Farrell and Paul A. Menard.

Picketing of the store was begun by some members of the union on Sept. 6, 1953, while others continued at work in the store. The picketing followed unsuccessful efforts by the union to obtain "a satisfactory" contract renewal. Farrell and Menard were discharged Sept. 18. Farrell was a member of the union's negotiating committee and Menard had previously been chairman of the same committee.

Incidents Cited

At the hearing in January testimony was presented to show that Farrell as receiving clerk for Wards had asked a Railway Express delivery man, "You don't want to cross the picket line, do you?" and the delivery was never completed.

Menard was head of Wards furniture department. At the hearing there was testimony from an Escanaba man that Menard had told him, in reply to a question about merchandise, to "come back after this thing is over."

There are three runways on the Sawyer airport, two of them paved. One of the paved strips is 4,100 feet long and the other 3,700. The third strip, about 5,000 feet long, is sodded, but has not been completed.

The airport is owned by the county and operated by the county road commission. H. L. Shroeger, superintendent of the commission, today recalled that Air Force officers came here early this winter, inspected the airport and said they were much impressed with it.

Soo Hill PTA Past Presidents Honored

Eight of the past presidents of the Soo Hill Parent-Teachers Association were present for the Founder's Day program held in their honor. The program followed the regular meeting Wednesday evening at the Soo Hill School.

Those present were: Mrs. Joseph Patrick, the first president in 1938, Joseph Patrick, Mrs. Art Hammerberg, Mrs. Leonard Gardiner, Mrs. Pat O'Connor, Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. Melvin Olson and Mrs. Norman Anderson. Three former presidents have moved out of town: Mrs. Gust Peterson, Chicago Mrs. Ralph Timan, Colorado, and Mrs. Rudy Bauer, California.

Mrs. Arthur Hammerberg, historian, read a history of the PTA activities. Mrs. Agnes Gleich was the teacher in the one room school of 1938 and was instrumental in organizing the Parent-Teacher group. She is the primary grade teacher in the present school.

Charter Member Speaks

In 1939, the pupils moved into their new school, the present building at Soo Hill. Two classrooms were occupied at that time. By 1941 the school was again crowded and the third basement classroom was put into service.

Mrs. Hammerberg, a charter member, described experiences of the PTA in establishing the hot lunch program. In 1939 there were no tables and chairs for the lunch room, so benches had to be hauled in from the parks during the winter months. It was not until 1943 that lunch tables were furnished.

Small cook stoves were loaned to the kitchen and were often inadequate. Mrs. Hammerberg related an incident demonstrating this inadequacy when the men of the PTA had to heat the luncheon coffee over the coals in the furnace because the gas stove refused to function.

Changing Times

Another interesting fact was revealed when it was reported that in 1941, fifty cents was collected from each child for seeds to plant the hot lunch garden on the Ford Farm near Cornell. The garden produce was canned by PTA members and made available to the lunch program. State inspection standards rule out the use of home

State inspection standards have changed in other ways too. A discussion on whether to use pasteurized or raw milk recurred through the years until by state law, all milk now served must be pasteurized and placed before the children in the dairy bottles.

The presidents each year were as follows:

1938, Mrs. Joseph Patrick; 1939, Mrs. Andrew Lindquist; 1940, Mrs. Louis Johnson; 1941, Joseph Patrick; 1942, Mrs. Arthur Hammerberg; 1943, Mrs. Fred Mattson; 1944, Mrs. Fred Mattson; 1945, Mrs. Leonard Gardiner; 1946, Mrs. Ralph Timan; 1947, Mrs. Gust Peterson; 1948, Mrs. Pat O'Connor; 1949, Mrs. Harold Anderson; 1950, Mrs. Melvin Olson; 1951, Mrs. Rudy Bauer; 1952, Mrs. Norman Anderson and 1953, Mrs. Norman Anderson.

Attractive corsages of handmade crepe paper jonquils were presented to each president attending. A centerpiece of yellow daffodils with blue trim was used as a centerpiece for the luncheon table.

Ore Shipping Decline Marks U.S. Economic Readjustment

ANNOUNCEMENT that ore shipments from Escanaba this year will be below the volume for 1953 may cause some foreboding about the economic future of the community.

Certainly it will mean that the number of dock employees will be reduced by the Chicago & North Western Railroad. No other course would be possible under the circumstances.

There should be no feeling of alarm, however, because of the announcement. Rather it should be viewed as one of the economic aspects of the times, when industry across the nation is involved in a period of readjustment occurring as the inflationary spiral of the past begins to flatten out.

The demand for steel is lower than one year ago, the blast furnaces are operating below last year's production levels, and the record shipments of iron ore in 1953 are accumulated in stock piles at Lower Lake ports.

The situation is neither unusual nor catastrophic. Back in 1949-50 a similar slump occurred. Recovery followed and business reached an all-time volume in 1953.

Escanaba today is more fortunate than at any time in its history. Employment is steady and more diversified than ever before. New industries, such as Harnischfeger Corporation, now one of the community's largest employers, provide local jobs in lines previously found only in larger cities.

The Escanaba area is looking forward

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

From a Clinton, N. Y., reader comes this interesting query about a word little used nowadays but splendidly descriptive of the pomposities of too many writers and speakers who never use a simple word if they can find a long "high-sounding" one instead. "What is the correct term," writes Willard B. Marsh, "to describe a person who habitually expresses himself in polysyllabic words? We have the word 'sesquipedalian' used as an adjective to characterize a heavy style of writing; but may that term be used as a noun to characterize a person who is addicted to the use of such a style? May such a writer or speaker be called a 'sesquipedalian'?"

I am afraid the word "sesquipedalian" (pronounced sess-kwee-peh-day-lee-un), though most frequently used as an adjective, already has the noun meaning of "a polysyllabic word." So it would appear that you must be content with calling the victim of this too, too common failing, "a sesquipedalian writer" or speaker, as the case may be.

"Sesquipedalian" comes to English directly from Latin where it was coined by Horace in his work, "The Art of Poetry." Literally it means "a foot and a half long" and thus aptly describes overlong words which so many writers use in the misguided belief that they are impressing their readers. It's perhaps especially appropriate since "sesquipedalian" itself certainly qualifies as a foot-and-a-half-long word or what most of us would call "a real jaw-breaker!"

Some weeks ago we talked about the word "flabbergast" in this space and I mentioned that its origin seems to have escaped the dictionary-makers, though the general opinion seems to be that it is a combination of "flabby" and "agast." Dr. Edith Brown of Avon-by-the-Sea, N. J., suggests: "Flabbe in German means flabby-mouth. Could this be related to the idea of the slack-jaw of one seeing a ghost?" Since "agast" is etymologically related to the German geist or ghost, I should think that Dr. Brown is probably right. Surely there's nothing like a poltergeist to flabbergast a person!

It is Possible For A Child To Outgrow Heart Murmur

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A generation ago if a physician heard a heart murmur in a youngster, he was likely to put that child to bed, perhaps for months, or at the very least, to instruct the parents and the youngster that he or she must refrain from all sports or anything else requiring more than the slightest exertion.

We now know that in many cases this was not only unnecessary, but a grave error since many of those with slight heart murmurs were perfectly capable of taking part in ordinary sports or other activities. This concentrated fear of heart disease made them practically mental invalids.

It did not mean to imply that this kind of treatment was always wrong, but certainly today there has been a change for the better in judging the seriousness of heart murmurs and deciding what, if anything, should be done for them.

In some children, for example, the growth of the heart and the valves inside the heart do not keep pace with each other, so that the valves allow a small amount of blood to slip back, causing a murmur to be heard over the region of the valve. This kind of murmur is not due to disease, and tends to disappear as the youngster grows older. Actually, it is the failure of the valves between the four chambers of the heart to hold back the blood which causes the murmur. There are also serious causes for murmurs which result from abnormality of the heart valves present at birth or caused by disease. The valve deformities present at birth are fairly rare and can usually be discovered quite early. Some can be corrected by surgery. Most of the valve troubles which cause murmurs in youth are caused by rheumatic fever. Even this, however, can be so mild that nothing serious ever develops.

Fever Damages Valves
Rheumatic fever injures the heart valves by causing growths on the lips or cusps of the valves so that they cannot close completely. If the damage to the heart valves has been severe, the murmur may mean that physical activity has to be curtailed. However, in many cases the growths are small and not active and even though they have produced enough damage to cause a murmur to be heard, the heart is able to do its job without trouble.

In all heart murmurs an accurate diagnosis of cause and degree of damage must be made. The mere presence of a murmur in the heart is not enough, nor does it always mean that ordinary exercise has to be eliminated, or that there will be any serious interference with life or health. Physicians have learned much about this in the past 50 years.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Though the Republican National Committee plans a campaign chest of $3,000,000 for next November's elections and won't have too much trouble raising it, the boys are having trouble raising the candidates.

In Montana, the GOP has allocated $300,000 as a campaign kitty to defeat Elder statesman Sen. Jim Murray, Democrat, but so far they've found no takers. One year ago Republicans were lathering to tackle Jim Murray, but more recently there's been no enthusiasm.

In Wyoming, the Republicans still can't find a top-notch candidate willing to run against Sen. Lester Hunt, Democrat. Congressman Will H. Harrison so far has said no.

In West Virginia, no Republican or prominence and potentiality is available to run against veteran Sen. Matt Neely, Democrat, who has been in politics since 1917.

In Minnesota, where the GOP National Committee has long been straining at the leash to defeat Hubert Humphrey, the candidates so far appear a minus quantity. First Congressman Walter Judd considered running, but figured he couldn't make it. Then Dr. Charles Mayo of the famed Mayo Clinic was begged by friends of President Eisenhower to get into the race, but said no. There was also talk of Gov. C. Elmer Anderson, and now some Republicans want to draft ex-Gov. Harold Stassen. But so far no one is definitely running against the redoubtable Democrat, Mr. Humphrey.

In Illinois, where two years ago Sen. Paul Douglas was considered a marked man, the situation is different. Douglas is no longer a marked man but so many candidates are in the race against him that they are stepping on each other's toes—a total of eleven. Only two of these, however, are nationally known.

One is Ed Hayes, former commander of the American Legion, and national chairman of Americans for America. The other is Gen. Julius Klein, the public relations expert.

Running against this broken field, Douglas is considered an excellent bet to win.

Note—On the other hand, Democrats in California are having a hard time lining up candidates against the Republicans. Gov. "Goody" Knight, the conservative successor to Chief Justice Warren, looks like such a shoo-in that Ray Lehaney of the Teamsters Union is even trying to stampede labor onto his bandwagon.

Protecting Republicans

Chip Robert, ex-treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, is a lifelong Democrat but was dining with a group of Republicans when some of the Eisenhower men paid tribute to the cooperation they were getting from Democrats.

Harold Talbot, secretary of the Air Force, especially praised a Georgia Democrat, Congressman Carl Vinson, former chairman of the armed services committee and still one of the most potent men on Capitol Hill.

"I don't know what I'd do without Vinson," the Eisenhower cabinet member said. "Though he's a Democrat, I get more help and support from him than many Republicans. I have been surprised at the non-partisan cooperation we have received from Democrats generally."

"That reminds me," remarked Robert, who also comes from Georgia, "of an old colored fellow down our way who was given either back in the days when they didn't use ether much in country hospitals. Before they gave him the anesthetic, the nurse said: 'Now for about an hour or two you aren't going to be dead or alive. You're just going to be betwixt and between heaven and earth.'"

"So when Uncle Eb came out of the ether," continued Robert, "some of his kind-folks asked him how it felt. 'Where did you go while you were half dead?' they asked, 'did you go down to hell?'"

"Yes sir, I sure did go down to hell," Uncle Eb waxed eloquent. "I looked all around down there and then I came back."

"How was it down there?"

"Oh, every place I see a white man down there. I also see a Nigar standin' between him and the fire. It was just like it is up here."

"That," Democrat Robert told his Eisenhower cabinet friends, "is the way it is with you fellows. You've each got a Democrat standing betwixt you and the fire."

The Latest Thing In Turncoats

Grandma Goes Back To School For Free In Washington, D.C.

By PATTI SIMMONS

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The woman with the suitcase was sure there was some catch to it. So sure that for two weeks she didn't even unpack.

The rose brick building nestles on seven acres overlooking the Potomac River. It has a gay-draped interior, open fireplaces, immense windows and a sun deck.

In this atmosphere—more like a fancy resort hotel than a school—women between the ages of 20 and 55 go back to school to prepare to earn their own living. From all over the United States they are privileged to come to the Hannah Harrison School in Washington to live, both board and tuition free, during their training.

What's really the catch? None. It's a kindly bachelor's idea of a place where older women faced with the necessity of supporting themselves may turn for training which they otherwise couldn't afford.

The late Julius Garfinckel, wealthy department store owner, had seen women, untrained to hold a job, come into his store looking for work. When he died in 1936 he left some $3,000,000 to provide a temporary home and school for just such women, where today, besides schooling, they're entitled to a private room, healthy meals, recreational facilities, even free medical care.

Miss Genevieve Poole, director of the school which is named after Mr. Garfinckel's mother, says that as far as she knows, "there's no other like it in the country."

Take 46-year-old Mrs. Chloris Waskey, who has just completed her five-months course in institutional housekeeping.

As a young girl in a little town in Indiana she helped her father run his small hotel. As a wife and mother Mrs. Waskey learned about homemaking. After her mining engineer husband died of a heart attack, what could be more natural than Mrs. Waskey turning to housekeeping?

The energetic student has a daughter in her teens and a married son who's working his way through Purdue University. Chances are, Mrs. Waskey will soon be taking a housekeeper's job, probably with a local hospital.

Married women with children aren't the only ones who have a chance to go back to school. Enrollment is open to single girls, and to divorced or deserted women.

In awarding fellowships to the Hannah Harrison School, things like integrity, good health, financial need and one's capacity to learn in the field of study are what count. According to Miss Poole it costs around $1200 to turn out a student.

Training is given in one of four courses:

Business, which fits them for employment as typists, receptionists or general office workers.

Clothing construction and alterations, after which they are ready for a job in a department store or dressmaking establishment or might even build up their own sewing business.

Commercial foods, for food management jobs in restaurants, hotels, hospitals, schools.

Institutional housekeeping for hospitals, hotels, schools and residential clubs.

Gray-haired Mrs. Freda Mc-

BACK TO SCHOOL for widowed Mrs. Chloris Waskey (left) and Miss Dora Foster gives them free chance to train for jobs.

Connell of Darien, Conn., is a housekeeping student. Before she was suddenly faced with supporting herself, she had never worked anywhere but in her own home.

One of the younger students, Pearl Pearce of Newport News, Va., is a high school graduate. After the business course she'll probably angle for an office job.

Attractive Dora Foster makes her own clothes and always has. But the Britisher was delighted at the prospects of getting professional training in sewing.

A farm girl, Dora worked during the war in a factory just outside London. With both parents dead, she decided in 1951 to emigrate to the United States.

Here she worked for hotel people who were kind to her. "But," she explains, "I really wanted to sew." Currently she hopes to work for a dress designer.

At the school Dora helps with the household chores. It's sort of a family policy for students to take their turn as hostesses, waitresses, at the switchboard or in the kitchen. Like other graduates, Miss Foster will have to successfully hold a job in her field for three months before she receives her diploma.

The school, which is administered by the YMCA, opened in 1950. Each year two groups of about 30 are graduated. This semester about 15 applicants had to be turned down. Later on, however, more money is expected from the estate and the school will be able to enroll its 50-student capacity.

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE BOY SCOUTS—This is National Boy Scout Week and, according to Scout Executive Andy Houston of Red Buck District, the proper time to consider the Scouting program and its meaning to American youth.

Andy tells me there are now in the United States more than 3,000,000 boys and young men enrolled in the Boy Scouts. This is a considerable increase over last year—and more than 3,000,000 above the number when the Boy Scouts of America was organized 44 years ago.

While we're dabbling in statistics we should also report that during the 44-year period a total of more than 21 million boys have grown into and out of the Scouting program.

It has been our privilege to know some 30 or 40 of the three million Boy Scouts. Some we have known quite well, others only long enough to give them a ride to Scout camp or watch them receive badges as they advanced in rank.

AMERICAN YOUTH—Those we have known and observed, however, impressed us as being just a little more alive, a bit quicker on the trigger, than the average boy.

The Boy Scout appears to be able to handle himself with more assurance than the non-Scout; he can meet emergencies without flipping his wig; and because of his training as a Scout he sometimes becomes a hero by saving a life.

We like to think of the Boy Scout as typical of American youth—loyal, truth telling, resourceful, healthy.

Some are not, of course, but most of them do very well in meeting the high ideals demanded of them if they live up to the Scout law and the Scout oath.

THE LEADERS—Aside from the district Scout executive, the organization comprises only volunteers for its adult leadership. These men are Scouters.

President Eisenhower in his message of congratulations to the Boy Scouts on their 44th anniversary noted that:

"America is grateful for the work of those volunteer leaders who, giving freely of their time, transmit to our youth values basic to good citizenship."

There is a thrill for an adult in participating in a program that brings out the best qualities in boys. The adult leader can watch the boy grow and develop, become responsible and mature.

THEY HAVE FUN—Our limited experience with the Boy Scouts long ago convinced us that for normal boys there is no equal to its program of training and recreation.

Under the heading of recreation the boys are sometimes active to a degree that is almost more than an aging Scoutmaster can stand.

Midnight forays, squirrels housed in sleeping bags, wild cries echoing in the night, shoes filled with raisins, and tent ropes that have a peculiar habit of collapsing at 3 a. m. in the camp of the "enemy" are all extra-curricular activities.

One Scoutmaster we know, who took his boys on a weekend camping trip, came home to enjoy a nervous breakdown.

Inspired by a recent Tarzan movie, the boys at intervals of a few minutes for two days and two nights took turns calling out a warning in blood-chilling tones: "Pygmies! Pygmies! Here come the pygmies!"

The Scoutmaster alarmed his wife on his return by babbling incoherently about pygmies, and he awoke from a nightmare yelling the warning he had heard almost constantly for 48 hours.

THE INCENTIVE PLAN—For obvious reasons most of the Scoutmasters and leaders in Scouting are married men and fathers of boys. They have sons in Scouting and they are willing to do their part to keep the program going.

The program operates on the incentive plan, so far as our experience goes.

The boys start in at the age of 8 and until they reach 11 they are members of Cub Scout Packs. At this age the boys find adult assistance in the Den Mothers, patient ladies and mothers of Cubs who are willing to give up bridge club one night a week for the benefit of the boys.

The Cubs are encouraged to meet in their dens by offerings of pop and cookies and to train for advancement so they will eventually become Webelos—the highest rank in the Cubs.

Once out of the Cubs and into the Scouts, the boys get the book thrown at them. They must work hard if they are to attain the coveted Eagle Scout rank. Most of them don't.

Over and above the Scouts are the Explorers, 14 years of age and older.

The number of Scouts currently registered in Red Buck District totals 734, compared to 688 last year, and the highest in recent years, Scout Executive Houston tells me.

It's hard to look prosperous unless you have a good job, and hard to land a good job unless you look prosperous.

U-M Will Aid In Centennial

ANN ARBOR — Plans for the University of Michigan to cooperate at an educational level in the centennial celebration of the locks at Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) in 1955 were announced today by President Harlan Hatcher.

"The University is most happy to cooperate and to lend its educational capacities and facilities to the Soo Locks Centennial Commission, and through it to the State of Michigan, in celebrating the Centennial of the Soo Locks," he said. Such cooperation is particularly appropriate because of the University's important role in the building of the locks and in the design of ships that pass through them, he added.

Specific details on how the various University colleges and departments as well as television and radio facilities will be utilized now are being worked out.

"The building of the locks will forever be entwined with this history of the University's College of Engineering through such famous civil engineers as Alfred Noble, Joseph Ripley and Ebenezer S. Wheeler," President Hatcher said.

"As the locks have become in truth the 'miracle mile,' it has become more apparent that much of the miraculous in that phase stems from the great ships that pass through the locks. Most of these vessels were designed and tested through the facilities of the Department of Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering at the University of Michigan.

"The University through its several colleges and departments is glad to assume its natural part in informing the people of the State of Michigan, particularly through its schools, concerning the significance of the Soo Locks not only for our State but for the entire nation."

Atomic Locomotive Runs Year On 13 Pounds Of Uranium

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—An atomic locomotive that would run for a year on only 13 pounds of uranium was described Wednesday to railroad and manufacturing representatives by a University of Utah nuclear scientist.

The scientist, Dr. Lyle B. Borst, Tuesday made public plans for what could be the world's first atomic-driven locomotive. He said the plans were developed during his advance physics course at the university.

At a press conference Tuesday, he said the locomotive would be driven with steam-produced electricity and would cost an estimated $1,200,000. It would look much the same as the diesel locomotives now in use and would develop 7,000 horsepower.

Strangler Kills Chicago Girl, 15

CHICAGO (AP)—A youth who police said strangled a high school girl because of his uncontrolled urge to kill tried to kill himself today.

Authorities reported Lee Parker, 20, attempted to strangle himself with his handkerchief in a cell where he was being held in connection with the death of Corinne Baldwin, 15.

Parker was treated at a hospital, then returned to the police lockup. Police said that Parker, in admitting the slaying of Corinne Tuesday night in a parking lot in the South Shore district, declared "I've had an urge to kill and couldn't control it."

The bruised body of the South Shore High School sophomore was found Wednesday morning in an alleyway in the rear of a drug store where she worked after school hours. A coroner's physician said she had been "criminally and violently assaulted," and had been dead since about midnight Tuesday.

Police Lt. John Golden, head of the homicide division, said Parker had a police record for auto larceny, sex offenses and narcotics violations. He said Parker was married and divorced at the age of 17 while in the Marine Corps and had gone AWOL from the Marines. He was unemployed and lived with his foster parents.

Police said Parker, who was held without charge, would be booked on a charge of murder after an inquest into the death of Corinne today.

Air Force Contract Gives Hudson Boost

DETROIT (AP)—The Hudson Motor Car Co. is happy over its current production and employment outlook, thanks to a new Air Force contract.

The company announced yesterday that it would be able to sustain regular employment and production "well into 1955" because of a new defense contract for construction of aircraft components. Company spokesmen said the new contract involves "many millions of dollars." It was signed with the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Co. for production of parts used in construction of the B37 Night Intruder bomber.

Athletic Award Rule Suspension Illegal, State Attorney Says

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard held today the legislature acted unconstitutionally when it gave one of its committees the power to suspend rules of administrative agencies—such as the controversial high school athletic awards rule.

Millard's opinion cut the ground from under the joint legislative interim committee which since 1951 has forced administrative agencies to modify rules and which last year suspended the awards rule of the State High School Athletic Assn.

The attorney general held that the power to suspend a departmental rule must be based on a finding that the rule does not conform to statute.

That determination is a judicial function, Millard said, and cannot be usurped by the legislature.

The opinion was requested by Rep. Adrian De Boon (R-Owosso) as a result of the controversy over the suspension of the athletic awards rule.

ed a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner. Montromery accused the Republican Party of reasoning to "character assassination" of Democrats because the GOP fears a defeat in November through lack of accomplishment.

"All we have had for 13 months is stumble, study, stall and smear," he said.

"The Republicans in their panic over their failure are accusing the Democrats of causing a recession," he said. The Oklahoma Senator said he based this on statements of House Speaker Joe Martin and GOP Chairman Leonard Hall.

He also accused Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) of "smeared the entire Democratic Party" by attempts to hang a Communist label on it. "He said this was 'hitting below the belt and destroying the two-party system.'"

Job-Making Welcomed
Weeks called on all Republicans to back the President's "job-making program."

He warned that if Republicans adopted the "every man for himself" attitude they would be throwing away "the Republican Party's greatest chance in 22 years to save this country."

The Commerce Secretary said that the President's job-making program was nothing more than "the Lincoln program for a stronger and better America x adapted to fit modern conditions."

Sec. of the Interior McKay told his Saginaw-area Republican audience that the Eisenhower has established a program for "all of America, based on enduring principles, and not on political expediency."

He likened Ike to Lincoln. He said both were endowed with patience, tact, leadership, courage and dedication.

Records Compared
Meanwhile, Sen. Williams (R-Del) gave Lansing Republicans a lesson in history and economics.

He compared the Republican and Democrat records since 1900.

Since then, he said, Republicans had held the government's reins for 27 years, one more year than the Democrats. He stated that the Republicans had failed to balance the budget eight times during their time in office while the Democrats had failed to balance it 23 times.

He also predicted that though the GOP won't balance the budget this year, they will cut taxes next year.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) spent the night at a Muskegon Lincoln Day dinner of Young Republicans where he praised the Administration stand against Communist aggression.

Similarly, Jenner said at New Castle, Ind., that "I propose to tell the truth regardless of politics."

In his Lincoln Day talk, Jenner said: "Don't let anyone tell you communism will not be an issue in the coming campaign. It must and will continue to be until we get the rats out of government."

Eisenhower said last year he hopes that any fear of Reds "actively undermining" the government will have vanished by November's congressional elections.

War Blame Fixed
Jenner told his audience that while Americans were fighting in Korea, "their victory was being thrown away by men high in the (Truman) administration who were friends or allies or willing appeasers of the Soviet destroyers."

Both he and McCarthy were speaking under auspices of the Republican National Committee, which Eisenhower said ought to observe the rule of moderation he voiced.

At Parkersburg, W.Va., Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md) blamed previous Democratic administrations for the Communist capture of China.

Declaring that "China need never have fallen," he blamed Harry Dexter White, described as a spy by Atty. Gen. Brownell, and others for decisions he said delayed for four years aid voted to the Nationalists in 1942.

Has Brother Trouble
LAURENS, S. C. (AP)—State Highway Patrolman J. A. McDonald arrested a man who had no driver's license and no license plates on his car. Three hours later he picked up another man under the same conditions—turned out to be the first one's brother.

Headed back into town with his second arrest, McDonald stopped two more cars, each for driving too fast. They were driven by another set of brothers.

Scottish Rite Masonic Head Will Retire

MARQUETTE—After almost 21 years of service as the sovereign grand commander of the Supreme Council of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction of the United States, Dr. Melvin M. Johnson recently relinquished the duties of his office.

Dr. Johnson is well known in Marquette, having dedicated the Masonic Temple in 1939 and having visited here frequently. His last visit here was in May, 1952. His home is in Boston.

A distinguished Mason, his achievements have been many, and innumerable honors crowned his efforts, including the Gougas Medal which was presented to him by the Supreme Council in 1946.

These past 23 years have witnessed a tremendous growth in Scottish Rite Masonry and Dr. Johnson leaves the Institution in a strong position.

The honorable George E. Bushnell, who has been grand lieutenant commander of the Supreme Council and deputy for the District of Michigan for several years, becomes the sovereign grand commander until the regular election in September.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy demand for New York Central at sharply increased prices today featured a generally higher stock market.

The buying surge in Central came as the management of the railroad and Robert R. Young squared off for a proxy fight to the finish over control of the valuable property.

The stock opened on a block of 30,000 shares up 1 1/2 at 23 and quickly worked up its price to 23 1/2. The first two hours of trading produced a volume estimated at 75,000 shares.

Other railroads were in demand at gains up to a point, and good plus signs were seen in merchandising issues, chemicals, electronics, motion pictures, and building materials.

Higher stocks included Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, 20th Century-Fox, American Telephone, Allied Stores, Boeing, and General Electric which shot ahead around three points at one time.

Lower were Studebaker, United Aircraft, American Smelting, American Tobacco, and International Paper.

U. S. government securities in the over the counter market were steady.

Stores Hope Love Will Boost Buying

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Merchants around the land hope that love will fill the hearts of the nation this week as never before—and move a wide variety of articles from the stores to the object of their affections.

That loving impulse couldn't be more welcome than this year when so many are a little unsure as to the trend of sales in general.

Cards And Candy
Greeting card makers appear confident that this will be their biggest Valentine season. They predict some 300 million cards will be exchanged. That could mean that every American old enough to read and write would send one and get one.

Florists always find the patron saint of lovers a big aid to sales. The telephone and telegraph companies count on business from those separated by the miles, or by those who forget until the last minute.

Candy makers are stuffing heart-shaped boxes with sweets and hoping this year, in spite of the high price of chocolate, will see their biggest sales volume.

Heart-shaped bottles are being filled with perfume. And this year a California vineyard is touting similar bottles for sherry and port. A New York delicatessen even has heart-shaped salami.

A Chicago store reports that

Valentine promotions on lingerie have been bringing in a lot of customers.

A South Bend, Ind., shop reports the same for women's blouses, but fails to state whether the sales were to women taking advantage of price mark-downs or to their admirers who think a new blouse might perk up the girls a little.

Many stores have been so pre-occupied with white sales and post Christmas clearances that only this week have they given their all to Valentine promotion.

But by now the window dressers have mostly had their fling—hearts are everywhere in evidence. Newspapers are filled with ads extolling the gentle St. Valentine.

Merchants outside the usual path of Valentine's Day shoppers are trying for the market this year. Lovers can find an appropriate gift, one says, among his stock of percolators, chafing dishes, toasters, silent butlers and ash trays.

Strangler Kills Chicago Girl, 15

CHICAGO (AP)—A youth who police said strangled a high school girl because of his uncontrolled "urge to kill" tried to kill himself today.

Authorities reported Lee Parker, 20, attempted to strangle himself with his handkerchief in a cell where he was being held in connection with the death of Corinne Baldwin, 15.

Parker was treated at a hospital, then returned to the police lockup. Police said that Parker, in admitting the slaying of Corinne Tuesday night in a parking lot in the South Shore district, declared "I've had an urge to kill and couldn't control it."

The bruised body of the South Shore High School sophomore was found Wednesday morning in an alleyway in the rear of a drug store where she worked after school hours. A coroner's physician said she had been "criminally and violently assaulted," and had been dead since about midnight Tuesday.

Police Lt. John Golden, head of the homicide division, said Parker had a police record for auto larceny, sex offenses and narcotics violations. He said Parker was married and divorced at the age of 17 while in the Marine Corps and had gone AWOL from the Marines. He was unemployed and lived with his foster parents.

Police said Parker, who was held without charge, would be booked on a charge of murder after an inquest into the death of Corinne today.

Wife Of Chaplin Renounces USA

LONDON (AP)—American-born Oona O'Neill Chaplin has renounced her allegiance to the United States, which won't readmit her aging film comedian husband until he satisfactorily answers accusations of Communist sympathies and "grave moral charges."

"Isn't it lovely? Isn't it just cute?" the 29-year-old Oona asked as she waved her new dark blue and gold British passport at reporters Wednesday night when she and her 64-year-old husband Charles flew into London from Switzerland.

Later the British-born Chaplin, who despite 40 years in Hollywood never surrendered his original citizenship, told a news conference at their hotel:

"I'm very proud to announce my wife is now a British citizen." "I'm very glad to be taking my husband's nationality," chimed in Oona, whose teen-age marriage estranged her from her late father, American playwright Eugene O'Neill.

Chaplin announced last April he would never return to America, where, he charged, he had been the "object of lies and vicious reactionary groups." Chaplin said their five children would be British too "because children always take the nationality of their parents."

Dillman reported the college had bought the stock with royalties on a copper patent which was given to the college.

Eisenhower said last year he hopes that any fear of Reds "actively undermining" the government will have vanished by November's congressional elections.

War Blame Fixed

Jenner told his audience that while Americans were fighting in Korea, "their victory was being thrown away by men high in the (Truman) administration who were friends or allies or willing appeas-ers of the Soviet destroyers." Both he and McCarthy were speaking under auspices of the Republican National Committee, which Eisenhower said ought to observe the rule of moderation he voiced.

At Parkersburg, W.Va., Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.) blamed previous Democratic administrations for the Communist capture of China.

Declaring that "China need never have fallen," he blamed Harry Dexter White, described as a spy by Atty. Gen. Brownell, and others for decisions he said delayed for four years aid voted to the Nationalists in 1942.

Highway Patrolman Has Brother Trouble

LAURENS, S. C. (AP)—State Highway Patrolman J. A. McDonald arrested a man who had no driver's license and no license plates on his car. Three hours later he picked up another man under the same conditions—turned out to be the first one's brother.

Headed back into town with his second arrest, McDonald stopped two more cars, each for driving too fast. They were driven by another set of brothers.

Scottish Rite Masonic Head Will Retire

MARQUETTE—After almost 21 years of service as the sovereign grand commander of the Supreme Council of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction of the United States, Dr. Melvin M. Johnson recently relinquished the duties of his office.

Dr. Johnson is well known in Marquette, having dedicated the Masonic Temple in 1939 and having visited here frequently. His last visit here was in May, 1952. His home is in Boston.

A distinguished Mason, his achievements have been many, and innumerable honors crowned his efforts, including the Gougas Medal which was presented to him by the Supreme Council in 1948.

These past 23 years have witnessed a tremendous growth in Scottish Rite Masonry and Dr. Johnson leaves the Institution in a strong position.

The honorable George E. Bushnell, who has been grand lieutenant commander of the Supreme Council and deputy for the District of Michigan for several years, becomes the sovereign grand commander until the regular election in September.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy demand for New York Central at sharply increased prices today featured a generally higher stock market.

The buying surge in Central came as the management of the railroad and Robert R. Young squared off for a proxy fight to the finish over control of the valuable property.

The stock opened on a block of 30,000 shares up 1 1/2 at 23 and quickly worked up its price to 23 1/2. The first two hours of trading produced a volume estimated at 75,000 shares.

Other railroads were in demand at gains up to a point, and good plus signs were seen in merchandising issues, chemicals, electronics, motion pictures, and building materials.

Higher stocks included Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast line, 20th Century-Fox, American Telephone, Allied Stores, Boeing, and General Electric which shot ahead around three points at one time.

Lower were Studebaker, United Aircraft, American Smelting, American Tobacco, and International Paper.

U. S. government securities in the over the counter market were steady.

Stores Hope Love Will Boost Buying

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Merchants around the land hope that love will fill the hearts of the nation this week as never before—and move a wide variety of articles from the stores to the object of your affections.

That loving impulse couldn't be more welcome than this year when so many are a little unsure as to the trend of sales in general.

Cards And Candy
Greeting card makers appear confident that this will be their biggest Valentine season. They predict some 300 million cards will be exchanged. That could mean that every American old enough to read and write would send one and get one.

Florists always find the patron saint of lovers a big aid to sales. The telephone and telegraph companies count on business from those separated by the miles, or by those who forget until the last minute.

Candy makers are stuffing heart-shaped boxes with sweets and hoping this year, in spite of the high price of chocolate, will see their biggest sales volume.

Heart-shaped bottles are being filled with perfume. And this year a California vineyard is touting similar bottles for sherry and port. A New York delicatessen even has heart-shaped salami.

A Chicago store reports that

Valentine promotions on lingerie have been bringing in a lot of customers.

A South Bend, Ind., shop reports the same for women's blouses, but fails to state whether the sales were to women taking advantage of price mark-downs or to their admirers who think a new blouse might perk up the girls a little.

Many stores have been so preoccupied with white sales and post Christmas clearances that only this week have they given their all to Valentine promotion.

But by now the window dressers have mostly had their fling—hearts are everywhere in evidence. Newspapers are filled with ads extolling the gentle St. Valentine.

Merchants outside the usual path of Valentine's Day shoppers are trying for the market this year. Lovers can find an appropriate gift, one says, among his stock of percolators, chafing dishes, toasters, silent butlers and ash trays.

The three-passenger Packard Panther, made of plastic, supposedly will travel at high speeds.

U. S. Joins World Sports-Car Race

U. S. determination to gain the lead in the sports-car field is exemplified by these latest creations. The Packard Panther, above, is the first plastic sports car of its type to be designed with a high-horsepower engine. It was three years in construction. The highest point on the auto is the top of the fenders. A convertible top disappears in well at rear of passenger compartment. The new Kaiser-Darin, at right, is competing against Europe's slick models at a New York show. It features a spun-glass body weighing 300 pounds, sliding doors, a disappearing top and six forward speeds.

Doris Dean lends charm to the new Kaiser-Darin 161 speedster.

Hunkies Planted South Of Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (P)—The first shipment of Hungarian partridges from Southern Ontario game farms was "planted" in upland game areas south of Sault Ste. Marie.

State conservation officer Lloyd Schemenauer said 25 to 50 of the partridges arrived by train and were taken at once to game areas.

The partridges, a cross between the quail and ruffed grouse, were part of an exchange agreement between the Michigan Conservation Department and Ontario conservation officials.

In return for the partridges, Michigan will give Canadian an equal number of sharp tailed grouse. About 200 birds are involved in the transaction.

State Conservation Department officials said the "planting" was an effort to improve Michigan's upland game bird hunting.

Edits Newspaper From Her Car

STATESVILLE, N. C. (P)—Mrs. Mary Hill Long, 60, worked for The Statesville Daily for 20 years. It was sold last spring, leaving Mrs. Long jobless. Using her savings only to buy stamps, she packed her typewriter in the back seat of her car and started publishing the weekly, four-page "County News."

The back seat serves as news room, office and mailing department. The paper is printed in nearby Mocksville.

"I'm not competing with anyone," she said, "I just felt there was a place for a newspaper of this type."

Her readers agreed. Now Mrs. Long, who has hired a business manager, plans to expand her newspaper on wheels.

California Base Has Giant Runway

MUROC LAKE, Calif. (P)—A runway 15,000 feet long—almost three miles—and 300 feet wide is being constructed at Edwards Air Force Base here for the planes that are steadily pushing back the frontiers of flight.

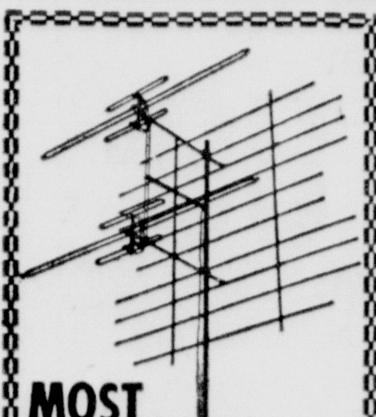

The slab of concrete is 19 inches thick and is flanked by earth shoulders 300 feet wide. Pouring of concrete, with two giant paving machines in operation, is well under way. Completion is scheduled for November, 1954.

The runway is a major phase of the expansion program that is transforming Edwards Field into a permanent flight test center.

Ford Engineers Work On Atomic Power Use

DETROIT (P)—Ford Motor Co. disclosed it is one of 27 firms working with Dow Chemical Co. and Detroit Edison to develop peacetime uses for atomic energy.

Andrew A. Kucher, director of Ford's scientific laboratory, said his engineers are doing research on metals and other materials. Development of metals that will withstand the great heat released by atomic disintegration, he said, is one of the problems Ford is working on.

Immunity Law Is Favored Against Balky Witnesses

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY
WASHINGTON—Witnesses who defy Congressional probers by refusing to answer questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination may have to contend with a new legal device designed to compel them to talk.

The Senate last year passed a bill under which a witness could be forced to testify, in return for complete protection against prosecution for anything he might disclose to questioning Congressmen.

The House did not act on the measure in 1953, but the House Judiciary Committee is expected to hold hearings this year.

At present a witness who says,
"I refuse to answer the question on the grounds that it might tend to incriminate me" can safely keep his mouth shut so long as he has reasonable cause to feel that an honest answer might incriminate him.

The Fifth Amendment of the Constitution declares "no person ... shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself." The courts have said this applies to witnesses before Congressional committees.
Attempts to convict balking witnesses for contempt of Congress after they had pleaded possible self-incrimination repeatedly have been turned down by the courts.

But the Supreme Court has said that Congress could force a witness to testify if he were given
"complete immunity" against prosecution.

Some Senators, including the late Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), said they were afraid the Senate-passed bill might grant an "immunity bath"—an easy way for talkative witnesses to escape prosecution.
Others expressed fears that Congress inadvertently might grant immunity to a witness against whom the Justice Department had built a strong criminal case.

As approved by the Senate last July 9, the bill specified that the Attorney General must be informed of a proposed grant of immunity for a witness at least one week before the Congressional committee voted on the proposal. If the Attorney General did not approve of the immunity grant, the committee could override him only if the House or Senate, by a year-and-day record vote, gave it the green light.

Witness In Reuther Shooting Will Face Extradition Hearing

WINDSOR (AP)—Essex County
Judge Albert Gordon has set Monday for the extradition hearing of Donald R. Ritchie, key witness-defendant in the 1948 Walter Reuther shooting.

Gordon set the date after receiving a requisition warrant Tuesday signed by President Eisenhower. The request asked that Ritchie be turned over to Detroit police to face a charge of assault with intent to kill in the attempt to assassinate the CIO president.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Spring Silhouette From Paris Just Reverses Last Fall

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent
PARIS (NEA)—A picture something like the Roaring Twenties is what's left on the Paris style screen, now that the spring unveilings are complete. The top designers simply reversed last August's silhouettes instead of developing them further.

Narrow sleeves and shoulders replace the top width of last season; narrow coats replace stand-away coats and the princess dress is eclipsed by the bloused shirt-waist silhouette.

Designers currently rating the most praise from buyers for their collections are Fath, Balmain and Dior. Reactions to the much-discussed Chanel opening were mixed but there was a general feeling of disappointment.

A rundown on the top designers and their collections produces this fashion picture:

Jacques Fath: He shows snugly-fitted suits (some with boning) and boned dresses for a neat, narrow silhouette. His length is 15 inches from the floor. Shoulder line is natural. Coats are loose, often widening at the hemline. Fath uses darts and seaming in addition to boning to gain the neat look that characterizes his collection this year.

Christian Dior: This designer has abandoned the princess silhouette for bloused lines and what he terms his "lily of the valley silhouette." Top width is gone and in place are set-in sleeves. Bloused bodices are belled at the natural waistline.

Daytime skirts are slim and lengths remain short; they are wider for the afternoon but even so, tend to be narrower than in his famed "domed silhouette." He uses a true dark blue named "bleu de Paris," either by itself or combined with lighter blues in afternoon prints and appearing again for evening in solid color.

Pierre Balmain: Elegance typifies this designer's collection, elegance and flattery. Lines are slim but easy with much fine, gathered draping. Sleeves are set-in and simple and shoulder-line is natural, in keeping with the general Parisian trend to abandon top width completely.

Blue is strong here, as it is in most collections. But Balmain also combines pinks and reds successfully. And he uses many tweeds in pretty pastel colors for dresses and suits, sometimes with coats.

Jean Desses: He features clothes for the smaller woman. There are a number of suits with short, fitted jackets and skirts with easy lines. Lines are generally soft and and skirts feature much intricate pleating. Blue is "big here, too, and is a light sapphire called "cashmere blue."

Gres: Predominant in this collection are loose, flowing lines but there are some fitted dresses with fullness placed low. Dresses are frequently shown with unfitted coats that are straight to the hip-line with fullness below to accompany dress designs.

Get-Out-The-Vote Campaigns Planned

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY

WASHINGTON—With the Eisenhower Administration on trial at the polls in the Congressional elections this year, both political parties are planning get-out-the-vote campaigns.

In the last mid-term Congressional election (1950) only four of every 10 persons of voting age balloted in the House races. Voters in 15 states had no chance to vote in Senate races—only 33 states had contests—and nationwide just three in nine voted for Senate nominees.

Even among those registered, only six of 10 voted in House races and more than half of those registered failed to cast ballots in the Senate contests.

The low turnout in 1950 stirred major parties and non-party groups to action. In 1952 they put on a marathon drive to get out the vote.

Girl Scouts, Shirt Bands
Their goal was 63 million—15 million more than had ever voted before and 22.5 million more than voted in 1950. Tactics ranged from the use of Girl Scouts as baby sitters to "VOTE!" appeals on laundry bands for shirts and on bread wrappers.

The campaigners came within striking distance of their goal—61,551,919 voted Nov. 4, 1952, in the Presidential contest.

The drive was aided by the tremendous interest generated by the Presidential race. Traditionally, more Americans vote on the Presidency than on any other office.

So it will be harder to get out the vote in 1954, although the potential vote increased since 1952.

Why Don't We Vote?
Millions couldn't vote if they wanted to. Aliens, convicts and the insane are barred by law. Negroes in some parts of the South are discouraged from voting. Citizens under 21 cannot vote except in Georgia, where the minimum age is 18. Some cannot meet residence requirements, live in the voteless District of Columbia, or are unable to pay the poll tax in poll-tax states.

Other millions who could vote do not because of the effort involved in registering or voting. Some feel they do not have reliable information on the candidates, that there is little choice between them, or that the election is "cut and dried."

President's Proposals
President Eisenhower has recommended changes to let more people vote. He would grant suffrage to the residents of the District of Columbia, all men in the armed services overseas, and citizens reaching the age of 18. He also favors statehood, with its right to vote, for Hawaii.

There are now about 100 million persons of voting age. If all of the President's proposals were adopted this year, the potential voter figure would be boosted about eight million.

Congressmen are sponsoring legislation which would enact the President's suggestions, and in addition, measures have been introduced to extend statehood to Alaska and to eliminate the requirements for the payment of poll taxes in some states. Other bills would make election day a holiday and excuse government employees from work "for a sufficient period" to vote in elections.

Getting Out The Vote
The 1954 get-out-the-vote drive will be aimed at the voluntary non-voter.

Republicans are gunning for what they call the "stay-at-homes." They figure that of nearly 14 million Americans who went to the polls in 1952 who do not usually vote, about 11 million voted for President Eisenhower.

The GOP will appeal to voters who "liked Ike" in 1952 to vote for his Republican "team" in 1954. In this drive Republicans will be aided by a Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Campaign Committee which will back GOP Congressional nominees who support President's program.

Democrats have started "workshops" to train party workers in organization and get-out-the-vote techniques, including house-to-house canvassing and use of telephone brigades, car pools and baby sitters.

Both parties are preparing to concentrate their efforts on marginal Congressional districts won by less than five per cent of the vote in the 1952 election. They will make special vote appeals to women and young voters.

The two parties are armed with new ammunition. Democrats are using the Demographic Digest, new 112-page monthly magazine of general circulation. Republicans are launching a new four-page monthly publication to distribute to 150,000 party workers. Each publication will emphasize its party's stands in the 1954 campaign.

Other Campaign Plans
The political arms of the big labor organizations, Labor's League for Political Education of the American Federation of Labor, and the Political Action Committee of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, already have mapped out their get-out-the-vote programs and campaign strategy for 1954.

They will check union rolls to be sure that every member is registered and can vote and will try to get unionists and adults in their families to the polls on election day, armed with information on the nominees and the issues. Labor also will canvass "working men's areas."

The League of Women Voters, as in the past, will conduct non-partisan get-out-the-vote campaigns. LWV also will furnish information on candidates and issues, both locally and nationally.

Some of the League's ways of winning voters to the polls: Awards to schools which have the most parents at voting places; newspaper notices offering political lowdown, by telephone, to interested citizens; in Texas, a roundup week to induce residents to pay the poll tax.

A big 1952 get-out-the-vote drive was sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation and the Advertising Council. Fifty civic, fraternal, commercial, educational, veteran and religious groups aided them in the drive. While these groups do not plan a 1954 campaign on the same scale, they hope much of 1952's voter interest will carry over to this year's election.

Other organizations are expected to launch voting drives, at national, state or local levels, as the campaign develops.

Reds Expanding 3-D Movies

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union, which claims to have had the first three-dimensional movie process not requiring polaroid glasses as early as 1941, is now planning expansion into the provinces. Moscow has a 3-D theater. The plan calls for a network of them.

Prof. P. Koslov, director of the Research Cinema Photo Institute, says, the old screen had shortcomings. "Now we not only have a new screen but a new system of shooting and projecting 3-D films which greatly improve their quality."

Americans who have seen Russian 3-D in Moscow find it good.

Soviet Film production faces no stiff competition from television. Theaters are still overcrowded and any foreigner with a ticket to spare is besieged by Russians who want to buy it.

Gas Competition Due To Tighten

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A "terrific race" among competitive service stations for the motorists' dollar is forecast by the sales promotion manager of Continental Oil Co.

J. J. Nesmith told the Arkansas Oil Dealers Association that no war or panic can so completely destroy a business as can a new and better product in the hands of a competitor. He said many new and better products are in the offing.

FIREMEN RESPOND

TARIFFVILLE, Conn. (AP)—For one night this Connecticut village had the nation's most formal fire fighters. They were in evening dress for their annual ball when an alarm sounded for a minor chimney fire.

Chief Vincent Piona was a little late getting to the scene, but he arrived dressed as firemen should be. He was in the bathtub when the alarm sounded.

THE FORMER Rose Marie Nieuwenkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wynand Nieuwenkamp, 601 Montana Ave., became the bride of Gerald Bunno in a ceremony performed by Father Matt Laviolette Saturday, Feb. 6, in the parish house of All Saints' Church. BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Who has claim to money confiscated in gambling raids here? The City Council solved the question with an ordinance automatically confiscating such funds for the city.

Capitol Quotes

By Congressional Quarterly

Economical Talk?

"All my life I have tried to decide who knows the most about our economy—our businessmen or our economists? The only conclusion I have been able to reach is that politicians know less than either of them—and do more talking about the subject."—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) in a Jan. 23 address to the Philadelphia Real Estate Board.

COMMITTING MAYHEM—

"There are those who wish to make this a nation of 48 states. Not I. I am a Senator of the United States of America, even though I represent, in part, the state of Wisconsin. If the camel's nose is allowed under the tent, to permit a return to the concept of yesterday, we will be doing what a great constitutional lawyer said would be done; we will be committing mayhem upon the Constitution. Mr. President, I am not for that step."—Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) in a Jan. 22 Senate speech.

St. Lawrence Seaway In House

CLOSE VOTE EXPECTED—

"The St. Lawrence Seaway (proposal) passed the Senate with . . . votes to spare. Prospects for affirmative House action are more doubtful. I would guess it would pass by a close vote if it gets to the floor."—Rep. Charles R. Howell (D. N. J.) in a Jan. 25 newsletter.

CAUTIOUSLY OPTIMISTIC—

"Eight out of 13 Democrats on the Public Works Committee are for the project but at present only four of the 16 GOP members are for it. The Administration must get at least four more Republican committee members to switch to support for the Seaway. I am . . . cautiously optimistic of the outcome."—Rep. John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.) in a Jan. 28 newsletter.

Statehood

GOOD FOR THE WEST —

"Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii have become bogged down in partisan politics with Republicans backing Hawaii and the Democrats supporting Alaska. As far as California and the West are concerned, it will be to our advantage if both are admitted since the interests of both Territories are similar to ours and our voting bloc in Congress would be strengthened considerably."—Rep. Harlan Hagen (D-Calif.) in a Jan. 28 newsletter.

OPEN MIND—"Hawaii is close to becoming our 49th state. Its admission had been approved by the House and by the Senate Interior (and Insular Affairs) Committee. I have heard good arguments for and against admission (of Alaska). My mind is open on the question, and I am watching the actions of the appropriate committees."—Rep. William G. Bray (R-Ind.) in a Feb. 4 newsletter.

Fish Survives Motor Accident

DALLAS (AP)—In 34 years of driving Mrs. Clarence Kimber had never dented a fender. Then she bought a gold fish in a small carton of water. She put it on the front seat of her car.

As she rounded a curve on the way home, the carton started to slide off the seat.

Mrs. Kimber grabbed for the fish, the car jumped a curb and smashed into a tree. It cost $50 to repair.

The gold fish lost its water supply and apparently was dead by the time Mrs. Kimber got home. She put it on the kitchen drain board and forgot about it. Some time later she put the fish in water. It revived and was apparently none the worse for wear.

A Highland Golf member, Louis Morin, hit the golfing jackpot with a hole in one at the Fort Lauderdale, Fla., course the other day . . . Morin was playing with Harold Meiers and Grover Lewis when he shot the ace on the No. 9 hole, a 122-yard affair . . . The Florida weather has been perfect for golfing, sunny and in the 80's.

John Bruemmer, a 6-2 senior forward, continues to pace the Menominee Maroons in the scoring department . . . Bruemmer has tallied 174 points this season while center Bob Fraik, 6-4 and 207 pounds, follows with 143 . . . The tough Maroons will meet the Escanaba Eskymos here Saturday night.

Walter Schousen, Stephenson basketball coach, tells this story about Terry Brennan, new Notre Dame head football coach . . . Brennan's Mt. Carmel High School, Lane Tech and Austin High all finished the season undefeated and it looked like a flip of the coin to determine which of the public schools would play Mt. Carmel for city championship . . . Said Brennan: "Tell you what we'll do, we'll play Austin one Saturday and Lane the next" . . . That's just what he did—and beat them both . . . Schousen is a former Chicago prep athlete himself.

It will be homecoming night for a couple of former Marquette County cage stars when Michigan Tech uses the Negaunee Memorial gym to play St. Norbert College on March 2 . . . Stars with Tech are Terry Thompson of Ishpeming and Ray Trehwella of Negaunee . . . Both have helped Tech to one of their best seasons in history.

The Escanaba Eskymos staged a thrilling rally at Gladstone the other night but couldn't catch the fired-up Braves . . . Gladstone showed amazing ability from the free throw line by popping in 21 of 26 free throw attempts . . . Coach Burt Gustafson's cagers outscored Gladstone from the field, 25 goals to 22, but Cappy Keil's boys were too deadly from the charity line.

Ron Vanderlinden, Escanaba's Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves lightweight boxing champion, may have tough going at Milwaukee when he makes a bid for the Wisconsin state novice crown . . . Vanderlinden, who scored a knockout, TKO and decision in the tournament here, got a touch of the flu early this week and was kind of shaky on his pins when he left for Milwaukee Wednesday morning.

The Escanaba Lions Club, sponsor of the U. P. Golden Gloves tourney, will have the Escanaba boxers as guests at their dinner meeting Monday, Feb. 21 at the Sherman Hotel . . . This year's Escanaba team posted one of the best records in history by placing six men in the championship bouts and coming out with two titles.

U.P. Ring Champions To Fight Tonight In Milwaukee Arena

MILWAUKEE (Special) — Twelve Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves champions, representing the Escanaba sectional tournament, will start swinging leather in the Milwaukee Journal Golden Gloves championship tourney tonight at 8:30 (Escanaba time) in the Milwaukee Arena.

Headlining tonight's 25-bout semifinal card will be a match between Earl St. Louis and Norman Johnson in the 135-pound open division. St. Louis, Canadian Soo smoothie, was the class of the U. P. tournament, winning his crown by knocking out Manistique's veteran Francis Selling in two rounds.

Johnson is regarded as Milwaukee's top amateur fighter and is defending open division lightweight champion.

Escanaba's Ron Vanderlinden, novice 135-pound king drew the Marshfield champion, John Theobald, in the semifinal round. The two boys will meet in the eighth fight on tonight's program. Vanderlinden won the lightweight novice championship here by knocking out team mate Wayne Courier in the second round in the finals.

One Escanaba champion, George Izzo of Iron Mountain, was scratched in the semifinal pairings. He earned the 160 open class title unopposed here.

Besides St. Louis, only one other U. P. champion drew a Milwaukee fighter in the semis. Vermer Ammann of Manistique, novice flyweight champ, will meet Warner Ware of Milwaukee in the third fight on the program. All other U. P. champs will meet either Fond du Lac or Marshfield representatives tonight.

Plan To Push Santee In MS College Relays

By ROBERT E. VOGES
EAST LANSING (AP) — There's a kindly conspiracy afoot to force West Santee, the great Kansas miler, to really put out at the Michigan State Relays Saturday.

Coaches of the more than 20 schools entered know Santee is a fierce competitor when forced to come from behind. Santee will run the anchor leg in a couple of relay races where he figures to be way behind.

Some track headlines could result.

Should Be In Shape
Santee should be in shape for a good effort this weekend. He recently ran a 4:09.0 mile and a 1:53.4 half mile in a triangular at 53.4 half mile in a triangular meet with Kansas State and Oklahoma.

The fabulous Kansan will make his first appearance running the last mile leg of the distance medley relay, Michigan and Michigan State have crack relay teams entered.

The hope is that when Santee takes his baton for Kansas he'll see John Ross of Michigan and John Cook of MSC disappearing in the distance.

Big Ten Champ
Ross, the Big Ten indoor mile champ, has done 4:09.4. Cook is down to around 4:12.0. So Santee will have to run a pretty fancy mile to overcome the handicap.

The pattern is expected to be the same in the sprint medley relay where Santee will run the half mile anchor leg for Kansas. Dick Jarrett of Michigan State, who has done the half mile in 1:53.0, is counted on to pull out the Kansas in pursuit.

In the field events, one attraction will be Tom Jones, the six foot five inch, 240-pound shotputter from Miami University. Jones defeated Michigan's Roland Nilsson last Saturday at the Michigan AAU meet with a toss of 55 feet 4-5/8 inches.

Game Gets Rough In Late Stages

Sentinels Clip Hawks 5-1

The Escanaba Hawks ran into tough going last night and dropped a 5-1 verdict to the Marquette Sentinels in one of the roughest Northern Michigan Hockey League games played here this season.

There was little rough stuff in the first period in which the Hawks fell behind 2-0 on scores by Pat McLaughlin, first line wing, and Tom Balal, spark on the Sentinel kid line.

The tempo stepped up in the second period as the Hawks narrowed the margin to 2-1 when Joe Ricci scored on a pass from Ted Olson at 13:12. Three penalties were called in the second period, two on the Hawks and one on Marquette.

For the first time this season the Hawk fans, who numbered 543 paid admissions, showed displeasure with the refereeing of Dan Crowley, league official for all games.

The game nearly got out of hand at one stage when Marquette's Leonard Brumm nailed Hawk Doug Peterson with a high stick to the back of the head while the Escanaba player was pinned against the boards.

Peterson freed himself and swung on Brumm but no damage was inflicted. The large crowd screamed with dismay when the Crowley tossed both players into the penalty box for five minutes for fighting.

Jim Swenor, who had sat out a previous two-minute penalty for hooking, was looking for trouble in the final minutes of the game and found it when he roared into Escanaba's Ted Olson shortly before the final buzzer.

Hawks Can't Hit

Crowley's whistle stopped action before any serious trouble got started, but players from both teams milled around the Escanaba net for several minutes.

Swenor scored twice for the Sentinels and Roy Olson beat Ben Artwich on a solo in the final period to stretch Marquette's margin of victory.

The Hawks outshot the Sentinels with Marquette goalie Sonny Bater making 33 stops to 29 for Artwich. Escanaba's passing game was better than it has been in some games, but the Hawks were unable to get the puck past Bater when it counted. Lack of consistent defense caused the Hawks most of their trouble.

Black Holds Chico Vejar To Standoff

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—There was clamor today for a rematch between Chico Vejar and rookie Jed Black, scrappy young welterweights who made a smash hit in a brawling 10-round draw at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

But Pvt. Vejar returns to Army duty at Fort Benning, Ga., after being out on a five-day pass. His manager, Steve Ellis, says he has another year to serve.

Hee Knowles, pilot of Jed Black and also of Chuck Davey who twice defeated Vejar in 1952, says: "We would like a rematch — in another month or so Black will knock Vejar out in three rounds."

Black Holds Chico Vejar To Standoff

outclassed him for the next five rounds.

Black, matched for 10 rounds for only the second time in his career, dropped Vejar with a left-right uppercut combination for a nine count in the seventh. The game Vejar got up and lasted out the 20 seconds remaining before the bell.

Black's Big Test
Only 2,695 fans turned out for the slam-bang televised battle.

Black, outweighed 144 to 149, had won 27 of 28 starts and Vejar was his biggest test. Chico was seeking his 59th victory against only four defeats.

Referee Joe White scored it 97-90 for Vejar. Judge Frank Clark favored Black 93-92 and Judge Howard Walsh called it a 91-91 draw.

"I'm disappointed," said Vejar afterwards.

Black said, "I think I hurt him more than he hurt me."

Officials registered with the Michigan High School Athletic Association will handle all games.

Emeralds Play Host To Tough Newberry Five Friday Night

MANISTIQUE — Coach Karl Parker's Newberry Indians, who last month chalked a 56-44 win over the Manistique Emeralds on the Newberry court, will invade the MHS court Friday night.

The game marks the second before the last Great Lakes Conference game for Coach Rudie Brandstrom's cagers, who to date have a record of no conference wins and one non-conference victory. After Newberry, the MHS cagers play Gladstone Feb. 26.

Newberry has floored an impressive team this year, Coach Brandstrom reports. They are fast and use a press most of the time.

In the earlier tangle with the Indians, the Emeralds played a close game and were tied at 23 at the half. The Indians, however, pulled away in the third quarter and the Emeralds were unable to whittle out the deficit.

In the starting lineup Friday, Tom Quinn will be at center, Bob Hastings and Jim Garvin at forward and Ken Thompson and Ed Bernier at guard. Skip Corson is back in the Emerald lineup following an eye injury.

The Emeralds have only three more games to play this season. The cagers travel to Escanaba

Feb. 19 and to Gladstone Feb. 26. In their last game of the season, they will meet Stephenson here Feb. 27.

Friday, the Newberry and Stique reserves play at 7 and the main game again will start at 8:30 p. m.

Boxing Show To Be Held In Manistique Saturday, Feb. 20

Manistique's championship boxers, who now are in Milwaukee for the championship fights, also will participate in the show. Barbershops and LaFolite's in Manistique and Gust Asp's in Escanaba have the reserved seat tickets. The boxing show will begin at 8:30 p. m., EST.

Escanaba, St. Joe And Gladstone Get Set For Weekend Cage Action

St. Joe, Escanaba and Gladstone High School basketball quints are set for weekend cage activity with two of the teams slated for home stands.

Both St. Joe and Escanaba will be on their home floors Saturday night. The Trojans will entertain a highly regarded Marinette Lourdes team and the Eskymos play host to high-ranked Menominee.

On Friday night the Gladstone Braves travel to meet Gwinn, defending Upper Peninsula Class D champion. The Braves and the Model Towners have not met previously this season. It will also mark the first and only meeting between St. Joe and Lourdes.

At Stephenson Friday
Also on Friday, Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans will be at Stephenson for a second meeting with the Eagles. In the first game between the teams, St. Joe posted a 67-30 victory. The Eagles, coached by Walt Schousen, have showed marked improvement in recent games.

St. Joe will probably be without the services of star sophomore center John Berrigan who missed action against Munising last week with a sprained ankle. The Trojans will open with Dick Bryson in the pivot, David Hirm and Dick Cass at forwards, Jim Zimmerman and Jerry McDonough at guards.

The Trojans will be shooting for their 10th victory against three defeats.

The Eskymos are hitting over .500 for the season with seven victories against six losses, including an earlier defeat at the hands of Menominee, 65-53.

Coach Burt Gustafson's Eskymos will be facing one of the better Class B teams in the Upper Peninsula. The Maroons of Coach Bob Noonan have scored 10 victories in 13 games. The defeats were suffered to Negaunee, Iron Mountain and Marinette. Wins came over Shawanaw, Green Bay Central Catholic, Kingsford (twice), Escanaba, Stephenson (twice) and Lourdes (twice).

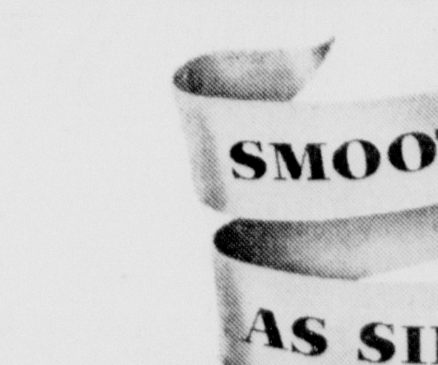

Gladstone carries a record of four wins into the Gwinn game. The Braves have lost seven. At Gwinn the Braves will be facing one of the Upper Peninsula's most dangerous scorers in Barry Musatto who is the third highest point-producer in U. P. high school ranks. He has been hitting at a terrific 34-point-per-game average in his last four starts.

Three Quints Seem In For NIT Invitations

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (P)—Three basketball teams which will probably rate bids to the National Invitation Tournament and one which would certainly like to join them offered freshened credentials today for the benefit of the selection committee. La Salle, Dayton and Louisville, the three likely prospects, all won handily Wednesday night. So did St. Francis of Brooklyn, the wishful outsider.

Duquesne, the nation's second-ranking team, accepted an invitation Wednesday, then walloped helpless Carnegie Tech 86-40 for its 19th consecutive victory.

Iona Is Tamed

La Salle, in beating Iona 82-69, ran its own winning streak to 11 games in an 18-3 season and cooled off the tournament claims of Iona, the tallest team in the New York area.

Dayton whipped Miami of Ohio 80-69. The Flyers now have a 19-5 record.

Louisville trimmed Loyola of New Orleans 94-77, running its mark to 17-5. Both Louisville and Dayton have lost to Western Kentucky, already in the NIT field.

St. Francis of Brooklyn, the best New York area team available for the NIT, defeated Temple 71-62. The Brooklyn school has won 17 of 20 including 10 in a row.

Agies Keep Rolling

In one of the few Midwestern games, Oklahoma A&M continued toward the Missouri Valley title by beating St. Louis 59-53.

Norwich University, the nation's last unbeaten small college team, suffered its first loss, 69-67 in overtime against the University of Vermont. Kentucky and Duquesne are the only four-year colleges which haven't lost.

Navy scored at the rate of three points a minute through the first half and beat Georgetown 110-75. Don Lange scored 33 points for the Navy.

Yale upset Dartmouth 84-74 in the Ivy League, collecting 10 points in the final 70 seconds.

Frank Lane Optimistic In Pennant Pep Talk

CHICAGO (P)—General manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox has pulled out all the stops in giving his club a pennant pep talk.

Lane, in his annual message to the players Wednesday, declared, "It is a simple matter for the front office to win the American League pennant on paper but it is up to you players to win it on the field."

Lane told a reporter that the players "are as convinced of winning as I am....you can't beat the New York Yankees unless you believe you're better than they are."

Lane, in his message, said: "Manager Paul Richards and I honestly feel you players have the ability and spirit to end the Yankee regime. Last season you turned in the highest total of White Sox victories (89) since the 1920 White Sox team."

(The Sox, however, finished 11½ games behind the Yankees.)

Lane did some dreaming out loud.

'Won't it be a terrific World Series — the Milwaukee Braves vs. the White Sox?' he grinned.

'Why not pick those two clubs to win?'

'When John Quinn got Danny O'Connell and Bobby Thomson, he gave manager Charlie Grimm the lineup to win. Their pitching staff is better than Brooklyn's.'

Lane said he still was trying to deal for a third baseman for the Sox.

"But I finally landed the player

I was after for three years — Johnny Groth (outfielder from Baltimore in a trade for Sam Mele)."

Baltimore Buys Vern Bickford

NEW YORK (P)—The Baltimore Orioles, seeking to improve upon their cellar position in the American League as the St. Louis Browns last year, bought pitcher Vern Bickford from the Milwaukee Braves of the National League Wednesday for an undisclosed sum. As part of the deal, Baltimore also sold Charles White Jr., a catcher from its San Antonio farm team, to the Braves.

This was the Orioles' second major deal in less than a week. They obtained outfielder Sam Mele and infielder Neil Berry from the Chicago White Sox last Friday in exchange for outfielder Johnny Groth and infielder Johnny Lipon.

Bickford joined the Orioles at Boston in 1948. In six seasons he compiled a 66-56 won-loss record. The 33-year-old right-hander, handicapped by a broken finger last season, won only two and lost five in 20 games, a performance way below par for him.

Sports Roundup

ANN ARBOR (P)—The University of Michigan, a perennial factor in Big 10 football, baseball and track, is a patsy on the basketball floor.

The Wolverines haven't had a season in the Big 10 since 1948-49. They've won only two league championships, the last meeting with quick disaster.

That was in the 1947-48 season, when the Wolverines won the Big 10 title and qualified for the NCAA playoffs. They were knocked out in the very first round, giving a poor exhibition in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Michigan has been playing Big 10 basketball since 1917. During that time they've compiled a losing record of 212 victories against 231 losses. That includes an 8-7 record this season.

But Michigan hoop fans shouldn't feel too badly. Just look back a few years to the teams floored by the University of Chicago, which since has dropped out of the conference.

In the early 1940s the Chica-gons went through five straight seasons without winning a single league game. They dropped 56 straight games in that time.

George Chin, Michigan's high-scoring Chinese right-winger, is one of the top collegiate hockey players in the land. But experts—including General Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings—tab him as too light to play as a pro.

Football attendance in Michigan Stadium has been declining steadily. But it will get a quick boost this year when the Wolverines resume a colorful series by opening their home schedule Oct. 2 against Army.

Library Has New Volumes

The Manistique Public Library has received a new shipment of publications with appeal for both adults and juveniles.

The new books include the following:

"The Blue and the Gray" by Henry Steele Commager, a two-volume series on the story of the Civil War as told by participants, a story in words of those who fought it. The author has evoked the collective memory of that generation to re-create the war in all its aspects, as it appeared to those who participated in it.

"The Man Whistler" by Hesketh Pearson is a biography of the American painter—concentrating on his personality and showing how his nature was reflected in his art. It tells the story of his extraordinary career and explains the conflicts that dominated his life.

"Reputation for A Song" is a novel by Edward Grierson that establishes him in the forefront of alert young novelists.

"The Content Assignment" by Holly Roth is an original and exciting mystery.

"A Stillness at Appomattox" by Bruce Catton is the fateful last chapter of the Army of the Potomac's dramatic saga—the last desperate, heartbreaking cruel year of the Civil War.

"The Death of Kings" by Charles Wertenbaker views the clash of ideas and men during the last 15 years, through the convolutions of a group of executives on a big newsmagazine.

"Tomorrow" by Philip Wylie can be read as a novel of pure suspense—if you dare; a thriller in which the apocalyptic technology of this day is superimposed on the near future.

"All That Glitters" by Manning Coles is an exciting mystery that involves the disappearance of top-secret designs, and four Berlin thugs trying to fleece the M. V. D's.

"Tree Wagon" by Evelyn Sibbey Lampman is a delightful and unusual story for young readers of the historic trek of the tree wagon over the Oregon Trail.

"The New Boy" by Mary Urston is an amusing and understanding story of a new boy's adjustment to a different school and new friends.

Other new juvenile books include "Letter For Cathy" by Kathryn Hitt, "The Fishing Cat" by Grayce Silverton Myers and "Mick and Mack and Mary Jane" by Richard Bennett.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.
